Dear Parents & Carers

A few things have stood out for me this week.
Firstly, the Art Workshops that took place on Thursday. About 90 children took part in this over the day. We were joined by staff from Southampton University who worked with the children to make pumpkin sculptures out of wire and other materials.
It looked great fun.

Secondly, the year 6 pupils have been doing Bikeability this week and I received some great feedback on their behaviour and manners.

Finally, I want to thank our year 6 tour guides who showed a large number of potential parents around the school this week. I got positive reviews about them too.

Next week I will leading assemblies about road safety. Please have a look at the attached materials that I have received from Hampshire County Council Road Safety team. I think that they are useful for parents/carers and avoid being patronising.

See you next week.

Don't forget that next Friday 23rd October is an INSET day.
